ASK CRUTCHFIELD TO STOP COURT SIDESHOW

Police Commissioners Take Determined Step to Save Officers Humiliation.

MAYOR HANDS HIM LETTER

Situation Aggravated by Recent Instances of Ridicule and Contempt of Police.

Continued humiliation and ridicule by Justice Crutchfield of officers in his court of justice has at last aroused the Board of Police Commissioners to decisive action in requesting the justice to desist from what is generally deemed a pernicious habit, one calculated greatly to hinder the efficiency of the force and to make some of its members the laughing stock of the worst classes in the city.

Mayor Presents Letter.

After the matter was thoroughly threshed out in the board meeting Wednesday night, when the complaints of four officers whose feelings had been deeply injured by Justice Crutchfield's stinging shafts had been heard, it was decided to prepare a letter to the Police Justice and to have it presented to him by Mayor Richardson. Police Commissioners Gordon and Duke, with the Mayor acting as chairman, were appointed to draft the letter, and at 1 o'clock yesterday the Mayor presented it to Justice Crutchfield in the latter's private office. The letter was opened, and the noted justice made no other comment than to say he would take it under consideration.

The communication was addressed in the kindest and most friendly terms, but couched in language that would leave clear the conclusion that the commissioners were determined, and that they desired their message to be given due heed. In effect it requested Justice Crutchfield to desist from holding up the duly appointed officers of the law—of which he is an arm—on general ridicule before the motley masses of ne'er-do-wells who daily infest his court, to refrain from stinging them with his wit, and to co-operate with the department so far as he could in upholding the musters of the law. It was framed simply as a request. Yet, if after the agitation that has preceded this letter and the letter itself do not achieve the desired ends, it is stated by a prominent member of the board that more stringent measures looking to a change for the better in Police Court circles will be taken, and that speedily.

Cause of the Protest.

The direct cause leading up to this action on the part of the board was the complaint of four officers of the force, to which they had recently been subjected. During the progress of the case which brought the officers to court Justice Crutchfield is stated to have told them that if they didn't like it, they could resign, and that the board had no objection to their resigning. The commissioners take the notion that no officer should be compelled to resign from the force in order to receive decent treatment in the Police Court, and one of them said so yesterday.

Much complaint of the methods in use in the Police Court has been made by officers of the department. They do not question his decisions, but they do question his self-assumed privilege, as it is looked upon by them and others, of holding them up to the contempt of the lower classes who throng the court, and making them the objects of vulgar wit.

The situation has been tense for a long time; recently it became strained. Officers grumbled and their mutterings reached the ears of those in authority. The latter decided to take a hand in the game and to give the men that chance which was denied them in court. The evidence seemed to be sufficient, and the communication was the result. It will probably have the desired end.

Great Place for Comedy.

"For years the Police Court has been conducted as a side show at the expense of the city," said a man yesterday who is in touch with the situation. "With the many on the bench taking the leading part, the police part of the villains, and the prisoner that of the much-injured hero, the piece of stage work appealed to the lullers and rangers-on as a comedy that was well worth the jaunt to the Police Court every morning."

"It became a popular resort, and on occasions the room was so crowded that every available space was taken and even the dignified precinct behind the high seat was encroached upon so that no one might miss the show of the hour. It rapidly achieved a popularity that left the theatres in the shade. It still popular."

"It is a fact, though, that the daily

NO SITE SELECTED FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Most Available Locations Will Be Recommended to City Council Next Week.

MANY INDORSE THE PROJECT

Importance of Securing Outdoor Attractions for Children Ably Presented.

Earnestness and enthusiasm marked the session of the Joint Council Committee on Public Playgrounds in the Council chamber last night. From the sentiments expressed by members of the committee, and prominent citizens who were present, it seems certain that the greatest pressure will be brought to bear on Council when the recommendations of the committee are placed before it. Many persons, including several women, were present, and speeches were made for the most part by those not officially connected with the movement, which shows to what extent general interest has been aroused.

Many Sites in View.

Chairman E. B. Fuller announced that the committee had a number of sites under consideration, and that it had obtained at satisfactory figures options on a lot in Fulton, the Clark Spring property, at Harrison and Ashland Streets, and the Seabrook Warehouse property, the corner of Eighteenth and Grace Streets.

It is expected also that an option will soon be obtained on desirable property in the central part of the city. Final recommendation will be made to the Council next week.

Mr. Charles Hutzler, chairman of the City School Board, promised the hearty co-operation of the board in the movement, and said that it would gladly assist by giving the use of the school yards throughout the city as public playgrounds. These yards being available at once, will serve to demonstrate the good that can be done by the establishment of permanent and adequate places, such as are advocated by the committee.

Captain Carlton McCarthy spoke strongly in favor of the move, saying that he thought it important that the ground should be bought at once.

He declared that the city now had a large debt that would fall due in 30 years, and that the people now have the power to give these resorts would not have to pay. He based his argument on the fact that the money expended for the establishment of the playgrounds would be well spent, because it would build up strong, healthy and intelligent citizens, capable of carrying out the plans of their fathers.

Wants Place for Negroes. Dr. James Buchanan, of the Associated Charities, urged the purchase of grounds in the sections most needed if it was found impossible to accomplish the plans for the entire city in a short while. He stated that he had recently made a tour of several of the largest Northern cities with special reference to the playground problem, and that he had found Richmond far behind the times in that respect, taking into consideration her size.

He urged upon the necessity of having trained and competent persons in charge and of paying them a sufficient amount to get the best results. He also made a strong plea for the colored children, thousands of whom, he said, were growing up in ignorance and criminality.

In reference to the colored children Alderman Richardson said that the committee had the matter under consideration, and that provision for a suitable ground for them would be made in the general plan.

Among the other speakers were Mr. Charles B. Cook, Colonel Eugene C. Massie, Mr. C. P. Walford, Mrs. Howard L. Whitlock and Mr. L. McK. Judkins, chairman of the committee. There were several children in the audience and that they showed much interest.

It was stated yesterday that P. Albert Smith and Montague and Montague will represent J. A. Hatke in the suit for $20,000 filed by the Phil. G. Kelly Company. His friends declared, however, that he would be abundantly able to take care of his end when the matter is formally presented in court.

Mr. Barthel said that he had worked with the man for a year, but that during that time he had said but little concerning his home or his people except that he was born in this State, and had been away from home for more than sixteen years. He had a tattooed design representing clasped hands on his right forearm.

The letter goes on to say that he was given a decent burial at the place he was killed. On account of his friendship for the dead man Mr. Barthel is very anxious that his parents should know what happened to him. There is nothing in the letter to indicate that he was born in this city.

UNEMPLOYED MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

J. W. Chapman Sought but Failed to Find Work He Needed.

ENDS ALL IN WATERS OF DOCK

Attempted Beforehand to Drink Poison, but Was Foiled by Bystanders.

Unsuccessful in his efforts to support his wife and their two children, J. W. Chapman, after strenuous effort had been made to prevent his purpose, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by jumping head foremost into the dock at the foot of Eighteenth Street. Just before he dove, Chapman attempted to drink from a bottle, which, it is believed, contained a mixture of whiskey and laudanum. This was wrested from him by bystanders. Then he freed himself, after a struggle, and jumped into the canal.

People standing about tried to save him, but the crazed man went down and was seen no more. The body was recovered several hours later, and was turned over to Billups's undertaking establishment, where it will be held pending instructions from his family.

Chapman had lived in this city about three years, boarding with a family at No. 12 Wood Street. He was formerly employed at the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works. He had been a hard-working man, and the lack of employment, with its consequent distress to himself and his family, is believed to have unbalanced his mind and to have caused him to commit self-destruction.

He was left four months ago, to go back to live with her family at Pratts, Va. The authorities telegraphed to that station last night, and are awaiting a reply and instructions as to what disposal to make of the body.

CIVIC LEAGUE SECURES CHARTER

Corporate Existence Given Organization, That It May Receive Municipal Aid.

A charter was yesterday granted by the State Corporation Commission to the Richmond Civic Improvement League, the objects and purposes as stated in the application being to "stimulate general interest in civic improvement." The league is put down as having no capital stock, but is allowed to own not exceeding 5,000 acres of land. The grounds and buildings of the warehouse, which are situated on the corner of Second and Third Streets, are owned by the City of Richmond. The league is to be organized as a corporation, and its officers and directors are to be elected by the members of the league. The charter also provides that the league may receive municipal aid for its operations.

The incorporators are: Carlton McCarthy, president; L. McK. Judkins, first vice-president; Eugene C. Massie, second vice-president; Mr. E. L. Lindsey, third vice-president; Elizabeth R. Selden, secretary, and C. B. Cooke, treasurer—all of Richmond.

VIRGINIA BEACH MAKES BIG FIGHT TO GET RIFLE RANGE

Citizens Offer 400 Acres, Sand Mountain, Lake of Black Bass and Surf Bathing Free—Military Board Likely to Agree on Site Within Next Ten Days.

Although no decision has been reached by the special committee having the matter in charge, Mr. James S. Groves, of Virginia Beach, who spent yesterday in Richmond, declared that there was every reason to believe that the military camp site and rifle range would be located permanently at that resort. The citizens have purchased and offered to the State 400 acres, worth $25,000, free of cost, this being the only donation thus far. Mr. Groves thought the matter had narrowed down to a question of Virginia Beach or Goshen, with chances greatly in favor of the former.

"The site," he said, "is about two miles south of the resort proper. The Norfolk and Southern Railway Company has agreed to extend its lines to the camp and will be able, therefore, to provide every facility for transportation. There is a natural drainage. Adjoining this land is Lake Christine, full of black bass, for soldier meals. The most substantial inducement which Virginia Beach offers is a place for a rifle range. A sand mountain forty feet high, with the necessary range, is there, which means that the target exhibitions can be held without danger or risk."

The first point to be reached will be the committee, composed of the following officials, left last night for the purpose of inspecting the several camp sites and rifle ranges: Adjutant-General C. J. Anderson, General C. C. Vaughan, Jr., Hon. D. Q. Eggleston, Secretary of State; Colonel J. Lane Stern and Colonel Dempsey, of the United States Army.
